Precision Therapeutics Receives $1,370,000 Investment from CEO and Director, Carl Schwartz

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 18, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Precision Therapeutics Inc. (NASDAQ: AIPT) (“Precision” or “the Company”) today announced that its chief executive officer and director, Carl Schwartz, has made an additional investment of $1,000,000 in the Company, effective January 8, 2019. Of this investment, $950,000 was a loan under an amended and restated promissory note, which now covers advances of $1,320,000, including a previous loan Dr. Schwartz made in November 2018. He also purchased 78,125 shares of the Company’s common stock in a private investment for $50,000, representing a price of $0.64 per share.

As part of the investment, which is detailed in a Form 8-K filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission on January 14, 2019, Mr. Schwartz also received additional warrants to purchase Company common stock.

In addition, Dr. Schwartz, since assuming the role of CEO, has elected to take his salary in the form of stock options, rather than cash, which further increases his equity stake in the Company.

“I have long been a firm believer in the vast potential of Precision Therapeutics and my most fervent demonstration of this belief is expressed through my investment in the company and my decision to receive compensation for my executive roles in the form of equity in lieu of cash. I am pleased with our use of capital and confidently invest in Precision Therapeutics to demonstrate my long-term commitment to our mission and our investors,” commented Dr. Schwartz. “I am extremely proud of the evolution of our company, from the initial development of the Skyline Medical business, to the pending acquisition of Helomics, the initiation of the development of products by our TumorGenesis subsidiary, and other progress in the development of the company’s contract research organization business, which have brought us to where the company stands today. I remain more convinced than ever that Precision Therapeutics will continue to create value for investors while providing essential products for human health, including AI-driven oncology treatment, top-tier clinical research resources and providing safer work environments wherever medical procedures are performed.”

About the STREAMWAY System

Skyline’s revolutionary, FDA-cleared STREAMWAY System is the first true direct-to-drain fluid disposal system designed specifically for medical applications, such as radiology, endoscopy, urology and cystoscopy procedures. It connects directly to a facility’s plumbing system to automate the collection, measurement and disposal of waste fluids.

The STREAMWAY minimizes human intervention for better safety and improves compliance with Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and other regulatory agency safety guidelines. It also provides unlimited capacity for increased efficiency in the operating room, which leads to greater profitability. Furthermore, the STREAMWAY eliminates canisters to reduce overhead costs and provides greater environmental stewardship by helping to eliminate the approximately 50 million potentially disease-infected canisters that go into landfills annually in the U.S. For a demonstration please visit www.skylinemedical.com or call 855-785-8855.

About Precision Therapeutics Inc.

Precision Therapeutics (NASDAQ:AIPT) operates in two business areas: first, applying artificial intelligence to personalized medicine and drug discovery to provide personalized medicine solutions for patients and clinicians as well as clients in the pharmaceutical, diagnostic, and biotech industries, and second, production of the FDA-approved STREAMWAY® System for automated, direct-to-drain medical fluid disposal. For additional information, please visit www.precisiontherapeutics.com.

Precision Therapeutics' medicine business is committed to improving the effectiveness of cancer therapy using the power of artificial intelligence (AI) applied to rich data diseases databases. This business has launched with Precision Therapeutics' investment in Helomics Corporation, a precision medicine company and integrated clinical contract research organization whose mission is to improve patient care by partnering with pharmaceutical, diagnostic, and academic organizations to bring innovative clinical products and technologies to the marketplace. In addition to its proprietary precision diagnostics for oncology, Helomics offers boutique CRO services that leverage their patient-derived tumor models, coupled to a wide range of multi-omics assays (genomics, proteomics and biochemical), and a proprietary bioinformatics platform (D-CHIP) to provide a tailored solution to our client's specific needs. Helomics is 25% owned by Precision Therapeutics. Helomics® is headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where the company maintains state-of-the-art, CLIA-certified, clinical and research laboratories. For more information, please visit www.Helomics.com.

Precision Therapeutics has also announced the formation of a subsidiary, TumorGenesis to pursue a new rapid approach to growing tumors in the laboratory, which essentially "fools" the cancer cells into thinking they are still growing inside the patient. Precision Therapeutics and Helomics have also announced a proposed joint venture with GLG Pharma focused on using their combined technologies to bring personalized medicines and testing to ovarian and breast cancer patients, especially those who present with ascites fluid (over one-third of patients). The growth strategy in this business includes securing new partnerships and considering acquisitions in the precision medicine space.

Sold through the Skyline Medical business of Precision Therapeutics, The STREAMWAY System virtually eliminates staff exposure to blood, irrigation fluid and other potentially infectious fluids found in the healthcare environment. Antiquated manual fluid handling methods that require hand carrying and emptying filled fluid canisters present an exposure risk and potential liability. Skyline Medical's STREAMWAY System fully automates the collection, measurement, and disposal of waste fluids and is designed to: 1) reduce overhead costs to hospitals and surgical centers; 2) improve compliance with OSHA and other regulatory agency safety guidelines; 3) improve efficiency in the operating room, and radiology and endoscopy departments, thereby leading to greater profitability; and 4) provide greater environmental stewardship by helping to eliminate the approximately 50 million potentially disease-infected canisters that go into landfills each year in the U.S. For additional information, please visit www.skylinemedical.com.
